

Joanna Taylor

DEQ should comply with the Wyoming Environmental Quality Act's core mandate of open records to make all agency information available to the public without charging an access fee. DEQ should not charge fees to the public related to records that a part of an agency permitting, enforcement, or rulemaking process, where the public needs to have access to the information to participate in DEQ's comment processes and develop internal procedures that produce records faster and make more information available to the public, as opposed to limiting public access to records