

Lisa Grutzmacher

I am writing in support of keeping open records on agency information available to the public without charging an access fee, according to the core mandate of the Wyoming Environmental Quality Act. Agencies affecting public land use should be open, transparent, and not hindered by increased restrictions.

Keep records free and open to the public!