

Alex Richardson

This would be a gigantic waste of time and tax payers dollars. Maybe establish better roads throughout the winter. Since the highway departments are severely lacking, I-80 fatal crashes during months of Nov-April.

Methane pollution is the last of anyone from Wyoming, this sounds like an adaptation from Colorado's Granola muncher party.