

Mary Brooks

I'm glad we're finally doing something about this methane problem after trump ended all safety programs to stop it. We need to stop polluting our environment or our children and grand children will not have a planet they can live on.