

John Doe 2nd

Absolutely no new regulations! There is only .04% CO₂ in the atmosphere. Plant life requires .02% just to stay alive. Unless the department is going to fund the resources to collect the Methane or address the concerns with their own resources there should be no new regulations. Plant more trees & plants if there are concerns.