

William Eddy

Hello !

Thank you for taking time to consider the public and public opinion . The fact is Wyoming has remarkable air quality. Nevertheless I feel it is important to minimize our environmental impact as best possible within reasonable financial constraints . It always strikes me when I see the trainloads of coal lumbering along in S Wyoming heading west to Portland and then on to China with the body of the state of Wyoming - only to burned and blown back across the Pacific upon us in vapor form , but back . Maybe just waste not want not and keep the water really clean . I think we all take Wyoming air quality for granted until it is smokey like this week and thenwe are all part of the atmosphere so Wyoming should do it's part to help keep the air quality as high as possible. Thank you for your consideration, William Eddy