

Cathi Nicol

as a 35 year resident of Wyoming I am always concerned with the way of life in this gorgeous state. we have seen the devastation from climate change in just the last few weeks. It is real and the emissions that we release into the air cannot be good and contribute greatly to climate change.