To Whom it May Concern:

It is vitally important that the DEQ keep its records public. The DEQ is the servant of the people of Wyoming and must act in the people's best interest. Therefore the DEQ must do the following:

Comply with the Wyoming Environmental Quality Act's core mandate of open records to make all agency information available to the public without charging an access fee;

- Not charge fees to the public related to records that are a part of an agency permitting, enforcement, or rulemaking process, where the public needs to have access to the information to participate in DEQ's comment processes; and
- Develop internal procedures that produce records faster and make more information available to the public, as opposed to limiting public access to records.

Sincerely
Jane Wohl
