

Luke Schultz

As a hunter and angler who calls Wyoming home, I support Wyoming DEQ's efforts to develop new rules under Wyoming Air Quality Standards and Regulations in order to reduce harmful methane emissions from oil and gas operations. These are practical and reasonable efforts that protect our environment and increase efficiency of extractive operations.