I am not sure if I am leaving my comments in the correct spot, but just wanted you to know that methane pollution reduction is very important to me. I see so much gas venting as I drive through our state. Harmful and wasteful. I believe state and federal regulation is needed to reduce methane release any way possible, by recapture or whatever. I do not believe companies or corporations will do anything if left to their own devices. Thanks for allowing us citizens to comment. Please don't allow a few legislators who are bought by the energy industries to derail environmental protection. Sincerely, Lydia Dambekakns
