

Harold Clayton

I used to test emissions on natural gas engines driving gas compressors. Wyoming definitely needs to keep a tight reign on natural gas emissions. I know there are a considerable amount of locations that are operating without proper permits. The natural gas industry got me where I am today. I'm retired now but we need stiff controls in this industry to hold everyone accountable for controlling natural gas related emissions.

Thanks for your time.