

Charles Ross

Please undertake to update stringent regulations to reduce and manage methane for the benefit of public health, climate change and conservation of resources. Wyoming must lead in energy conservation particularly focusing on our public health, conservation of our land, air and wildlife, and reduction of causing climate change.